

King Air 200 Collins Pro Line 21 LiveLearning Recurrent Pilot Training

Course Information

This course option is designed to give clients the ability to attend the 8.5-hour ground school via LiveLearning from home rather than attending ground school the traditional way at the Learning Center. A knowledge validation session is required to be completed at the Learning Center before starting the simulator training.

The client will have 90 days from the completion of the LiveLearning Ground School to complete the required validation examination. If either letter of authorization is expired when the client arrives at the center, the client will be rescheduled for the prerequisite training at the next available opportunity. Since the course is delivered Live via the internet, clients are required to have a computer/tablet with a stable internet connection and an enabled webcam and microphone for video/audio capabilities.
